Coaching - 1 year (coaching)

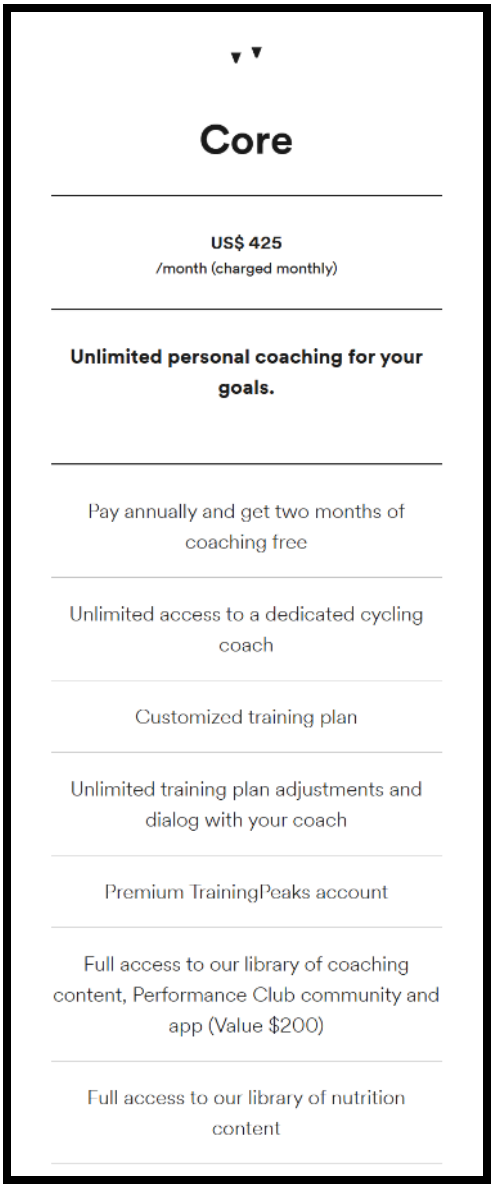
I am requesting funding to help cover the cost of my cycling coach, which is $425 per month ($4,250 per year). Having consistent coaching support is an important part of my development as I work toward my performance goals in 2026, including the Pan American Road Championships, the Central American and Caribbean (CAC) Games, and the Caribbean Championships.

Working with a coach provides a structured and customized training plan that can be adjusted throughout the season based on training, racing, and recovery. With several key international competitions on my calendar, having ongoing guidance and communication ensures that my preparation is targeted so I can perform at my best during the most important races.

The program also includes a Premium TrainingPeaks account for tracking training data and access to coaching and nutrition resources. This support helps me stay consistent, make informed training decisions, and continue progressing as I compete internationally for Bermuda.

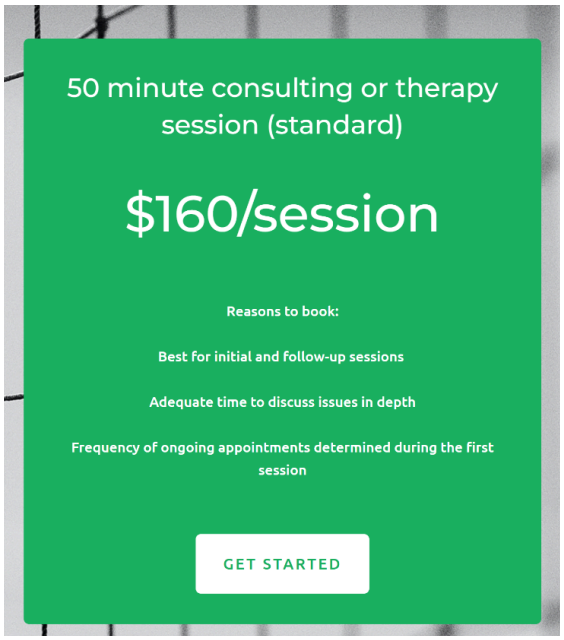
Funding for coaching would allow me to maintain the level of structure and support needed to prepare for these events and continue improving at the international level.

Total = $4,250



Sports Psychologist

I am also requesting support to work with a sports psychologist. Mass start races require a high level of focus and quick decision-making in constantly changing race situations. In a high-speed sport like cycling, races can be decided by split-second choices, positioning in the peloton, and the ability to stay calm under pressure. Being able to manage these moments well can make a big difference in the outcome of a race. Working with a sports psychologist on a consistent basis white I am in season. would help me continue developing these mental skills so I can make better decisions in key moments and perform consistently in major competitions.The budget and quotes below outline a quote from athlete mental wellness for 10 sessions.



Total = $1600

Training Camp/Race

I am requesting funding to support participation in a preparation race that will serve as a training camp ahead of the Central American and Caribbean (CAC) Games and the Caribbean Championships. Racing in a high-level event such as the Green Mountain Stage Race provides an opportunity to prepare in a competitive race environment that closely reflects championship racing. With stages that include both a time trial and a road race, events like this provide very specific preparation by requiring maximal individual efforts in the time trial followed closely by high-intensity road racing. Being able to perform these efforts back-to-back is important preparation for championship events where recovery, pacing, and race execution across multiple disciplines are critical. Having access to this level of racing before major championships helps ensure I arrive prepared and confident. It allows me to test my form, refine race strategy, and make final adjustments before representing Bermuda at key international competitions later in the season. The budget and quotes below outline the registration fees, transportation and accommodations for the training camp.

Registration - $475

Women Pro/1/2/3	Sep 1 see event notes	168 miles	$1250 up to $4900	110	$475

Transportation - $704 + $593

4:31 PM – 9:47 PM United	5 hr 16 min IND–BTV	1 stop 1 hr 30 min ORD	170 kg CO2e -33% emissions	1 0 $704 round trip

Price details

Pay at pick-up

Car rental fee x 5 days $108.90 per day	$544.50
Taxes and fees	$49.01
Total	$593.51

Accommodations- $1,116

Summary of charges

Room 1

$204.91 x 5 nights	$1,024.55
Estimated taxes	$92.21
Total (USD)	$1,116.76

Total = $2,888